

Submission Guidelines for Book Reviewers

To submit book reviews for consideration in Mobility Humanities, please adhere to the following guidelines:

1. The book review should be approximately 2,000 words or less (including footnotes and Works Cited). Book reviews EXCEEDING 3,000 words are NOT acceptable.
2. Provide a separate cover page which gives the title of the book review (the title of the book and the name of the author(s) of the book), complete contact information for the reviewer (full name, affiliation, and email address), a total word count, and additional information such as funding and ORCID (if applicable). Affiliations and email addresses will be posted online for indexing/abstracting purposes. For the title, please use bold with an initial capital letter for any proper nouns.
3. At the beginning of the book review, the reviewer should provide the author's name, title of the book, and publication details following the MLA style, including ISBN numbers. The reviewer's name should NOT be included.
4. The book review should include information about the contents of the book, its academic values, and the audience to which it is (or might be) addressed. Reviewers are advised not merely to summarise the contents of the book but rather to provide an assessment of its strengths and weaknesses.
5. Sufficient descriptive information should be given to provide readers with a good understanding of the book's objectives and scope.
6. For an edited volume,
  - 6-1. The review should consider how the chapters relate to one another and how well the volume as a whole works.
  - 6-2. The review could focus on (a) specific article/s or chapter/s which is/are considered to be significant to a field of mobility humanities studies.
7. Book reviewers are encouraged to refer to relevant ideas and works. These should be accompanied by Works Cited (of 3-5 items) included at the end of the review.
8. The manuscript should follow the MLA style. View the Mobility Humanities Manuscript Style Guidelines to ensure your manuscript conforms to this reference style.
